

ANNA GOULD QUITS HER SISTER'S HOME, CLOSE TO BE SAGAN

Family Refused Sanction to Match and Countess Goes to Hotel.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Determined to submit to no interference with her matrimonial plans, Mrs. Anna Gould, has arranged to move from the Fifth avenue home of her sister, Miss Helen Gould, where she has been visiting, with her three sons, Georges, Boniface, and Jay, to apartments in the St. Regis Hotel.

That she will move to enable her to receive Prince Helle de Sagan is admitted. No secret has been made of the fact that Helle would have been an unwelcome guest at any of the Gould homes. So he has visited none of them.

The Goulds have not discussed the de Sagan-Gould courtship for publication, and there is necessarily some guess work concerning their plans. The prince has not made it a secret, however, that he wants to marry Mrs. Gould. Society interpreters her latest move as forecasting the early announcement of an engagement.

Refused to Sanction Match.

There is good authority for the statement that the Gould family—George, Edwin, and Helen—refused their sanction to the marriage at a conference with their sister last night. Whereupon, Mrs. Gould telephoned the St. Regis to have her rooms ready.

It promises to cost Mrs. Gould considerable money to wed the prince. She inherited about $15,000,000 under her father's will, which provided that she must forfeit half of it if she married without the family's consent.

She did consent to the marriage to Count Bond de Castellane. Bond spent so much, however, that George Gould was appointed trustee of the wife's estate. There was only some $12,000,000 when he got it out of Bond's hands.

Will Lose $6,000,000.

This $12,000,000 is doubly tied up by the provisions of old Jay Gould's will and the subsequent trusteeship, which would leave Mrs. Gould only $6,000,000 in case she defies the Goulds' wishes now.

It is whispered that she has threatened legal proceedings if an attempt is made to withhold the money from her. The prince and Mrs. Gould have met three times. It is understood, since the former came to America. All these meetings were at the homes of mutual friends.

The countess went over to the apartments of her friends, the Morges in the St. Regis early today, and declined to see any visitors. It was stated she was ill and under the care of a physician, suffering from a cold, influenza, nervousness and a slight attack of bronchitis.

LA FOLLETTE WINS VICTORY FOR BILL

His Employers' Liability Measure Is Reported in Senate.

The Senate Committee on Education and Labor today reported the La Follette employers' liability bill. Thus the first distinct advantage is won by the La Follette measure in the race between it and the Knox bill on the same subject. The bill was sent to the Judiciary Committee, and is still there.

Report is that an effort was made to prevent a report today by breaking the quorum in the committee. Friends and opponents of the measure were alike at work, and exactly a quorum of the committee was present when the measure was reported. Of this quorum a bare majority voted to report the bill.

The La Follette measure has the support of practically all the labor organizations, while it is believed the preponderance of Senatorial opinion favors the Knox measure.

Fights Representative; Says Knife Was Drawn

JOHN S. HORAN,
Secretary to Representative Gaines, Who Says Representative Clark Drew a Knife on Him.

Clark Refused to Accept Apology for Accident to His Wife.

It was learned today that the man with whom Representative Clark of Florida engaged in a fist fight yesterday afternoon was John S. Horan, private secretary to Representative Gaines of West Virginia. The fight was caused by a slight injury to Mrs. Clark's hand which was caught in a swinging door as Horan hurried into the lobby of the Hotel Varnum.

Horan pulled the door back until it released Mrs. Clark's hand and then, but in hand, he hastened to apologize to Mrs. Clark and to her husband.

Words Turn to Blows.

"Get away from here. I don't want to hear anything you've got to say," Mr. Clark is credited with shouting to Horan. He further emphasized his statement the Representative is said to have forcibly pushed Horan away from him.

This act angered Horan and he immediately doubled up his fist and smashed Mr. Clark on the nose with such force that it began to bleed. Just as Mr. Clark seemed to be getting the worst of the encounter, witnesses declared he drew from his pocket a staghorned knife. At that point the two men were dragged apart. Mr. Clark denied that he attempted to use a knife while several who witnessed the encounter insist that he did.

Says Knife Was Drawn.

Horan made no attempt today to excuse himself for attacking the Congressman.

"I was passing through the door," he said, "and accidentally caught Mrs. Clark between a flange and the jam. I apologized to her and Mr. Clark. Both apologized to me. He insulted me and pushed me away. I sailed in and thrashed him and don't deny it. After I had pummeled him he drew a knife on me. It was a stag horned knife and everyone in the lobby saw it. I think he was trying to follow Representative Horan's precedent, but chose an unpropitious moment. I am a law abiding man and have never had a fist fight since school days."

Representative Clark said today: "I have nothing to say."

AVENUE LAND BILL DELAYED FEW DAYS

The prospects are that the Heyburn bill for the purchase of property south of Pennsylvania avenue, on which to locate Government buildings, will be disposed of by the Senate in a short time. The bill came up on the calendar today, but went over on the suggestion of Senator Gallinger, who said that inasmuch as a resolution had been passed calling on the Commissioners for information about the price of the property, he thought it well to defer action on the bill until that information had reached the Senate. He added that he thought the information would be forthcoming in a short time.

The bill to reimburse the depositors of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company came up today, but no action was taken, as Senator Clay of Georgia said that Senator Tillman desired to be heard upon the measure. Senator Tillman is now sick in South Carolina. Senator Clay objected to present consideration of the bill, and will come back with Senator Tillman to ascertain his wishes.

GOOD SIGN.

"What is he worrying so about?" "Something on his mind."

"If he just knew himself a little better he would cheer up immensely at this evidence that he has a mind."—Exchange.

HAND BOOKMAKER DECLARED GUILTY

Court of Appeals Rules
Against Lewis
Pfeiffer.

The Court of Appeals of the District today handed down an opinion confirming the verdict of a jury in the Police Court finding Lewis R. Pfeiffer, of Washington, guilty of betting on horse races and making a hand book.

The case was tried under section 89 of the code, which makes hand bookmaking a crime. It was considerably different from the Benning race track case, in which Justice Stanford decided that perambulatory bookmaking was not prohibited by the law when the act takes place not within one mile of the city's limits.

In Pfeiffer's case the charge was that he accepted a bet while on Tenth street northwest, which was, of course, within the city limits. He made the bet, it is alleged, with John Simmons, a horse dealer, and the races on which he bet were held in Canada.

Warner's Political Contest

The circular sent out in Colonel Pearre's interest is entirely unworthy of notice. It is intended to excite the opposition of colored men.

Mr. Warner was one of the first to build houses for colored men; he was one of the first to start a town for colored people. Go over and visit Garfield. Go to Bailey's Cross-Roads. There is no Jim Crow elevator in the Marlboro. No bill was passed in Congress by Colonel Pearre for the benefit of Lieutenant Flippen. It was introduced by request, and reported adversely. Colonel Pearre deserves no credit whatever under this head.

15 MEN ARE BURIED BY FALLING CEILING

Two Workmen Fatally Hurt
in Madison Square Theater.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Two workmen were perhaps fatally hurt and half a score less badly injured in the collapse of the ceiling over the foyer of the old Madison Square Theater, in Twenty-fourth street, west of Broadway, today. The building is being torn down.

Fifteen men were at work on the foyer when the heavy ceiling fell without a warning indication that might have given the men a chance to escape. The fifteen men were buried in the choking debris.

The first two men taken out were unconscious, and were hurried to the New York Hospital. The others were not seriously hurt.

ASSAULT EPIDEMIC BRINGS RETRIBUTION

Judge Kimball had three colored prisoners before him this morning on charges of assault. William Stewart was sent to jail for 364 days, for assaulting John Taylor, also colored. Taylor had refused to give Stewart a nickel, whereupon Stewart expressed his disapproval by beating his friend with a stick.

John Butler was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve three months on each of two charges of assault on Benjamin Ford and James Thomas, colored. Butler stepped on Ford's feet, and when the latter asked for an apology he was rewarded with a knife thrust. Thomas attempted to interfere in Ford's behalf and Butler slashed him about the head and face, until he lost his knife.

George Curtis was held in $2,000 bail for an assault on Lottie Coates with a razor, March 17.

THE WORLD'S BEST PIANOS

This Birthday Sale means "opportunity" to those who want high grade, artistic, high-priced pianos as well as to those who want lower priced bargains. Every pianoforte in this large establishment is cut in price—cut down deep, during this sale—this week.

When it is considered that our stock embraces the grand, old Chickering pianoforte; the real aristocrat of the piano industry; the famous Hardman piano, the sweet toned Fischer, the artistic Kurtzman as well as the many other well known makes we carry exclusively, the real force of the word "opportunity" appears.

In addition to our own line, we have many of the other well known pianos, slightly used, of course, but mostly just as good as new.

Some of the Plums

Chickering Quarter Grand, almost new	$495
Chickering Upright, almost new	$425
Hardman Upright, almost new	$300
Steinway Grand, used but in fine order	$250

Chickering Upright, used	$225
Vose Upright, mahogany case, almost new	$200
Hardman Upright, used but in fine order	$200
Mendelssohn Upright, used	$175
Fischer Upright, used, small size	$125
Stultz & Co. Mahogany Upright, almost new	$185
Cote Upright, mahogany case, almost new	$187
Other Uprights, various makes, priced up from	$75

NOTE—In making comparisons with pianos in other stores, please note the fact that our selling prices are ALWAYS lower, and that during this sale they are cut to a point where competition cannot follow us.
